One Hundred Twenty-seventh Commencement

Celebrating Over Sixty-five Years of Academic Excellence

May 9-10, 2024
Columbus State University

About Our Commencement Exercises

Welcome to today's commencement event—part of several events celebrating Columbus State University's newest graduates. The commencement season is a milestone in our graduates' lives marking this special achievement. It is the start of their next chapter that may include continued study or professional practice.

While awaiting the start of today's ceremony, you might wish to read the information contained on the following pages: a historical profile of the university, a brief description of the university mace and presidential seal, and an explanation of the academic regalia worn by participants in the ceremony. Each of our ceremonies begins with a series of academic processions for which audience members are asked to stand, as they are able. The processions are headed by the faculty marshal, who escorts the candidates for graduation, followed by the faculty and the stage party.

According to academic tradition, candidates for graduation proceed to the platform in descending order of the degree to be conferred: doctoral degrees, education specialist degrees, master's degrees, baccalaureate degrees, associate degrees, nexus degrees and then certificates. When the ceremony is closed following the awarding of all degrees, audience members should again rise, as they are able, for the recessional.

Again, we welcome you to today's celebration of our graduates and hope you will find it to be both meaningful and impressive.

Those named in this program are candidates for graduation, pending verification by the Office of the Registrar that each has met all of the institutional and departmental requirements, and pending final grades.

Columbus State University has been woven into the fabric of the Columbus community for more than 60 years.

*A*s early as the 1940s, local leaders identified that having a Columbus-based college was a priority. They began collecting money, looking for a site, and lobbying the state for a local college. Through their persistence, donations of nearly $100,000, and the support of two voter-approved bond issues, Columbus College first opened on Sept. 22, 1958, in a temporary location – the Shannon Hosiery Mill on Talbotton Road. Nearly 300 students enrolled under the care of 15 faculty members and six administrators.

Those humble beginnings began a story that spans more than six decades of a deeply rooted relationship between what is now Columbus State University and the Chattahoochee Valley. Columbus College moved to its current Main Campus location in 1963 and became a four-year institution just two years later.

Campus master planning hit its stride in the early 1980s as construction expanded to match the growth in CSU’s new collegiate structure and academic offerings. The late 1980s marked additional capital growth on campus, including the school’s signature clock tower—completed in 1991 and named after its first president, Dr. Thomas Whitley. In 1996, the college was designated as a university and became Columbus State University.

Despite widespread higher education budget cuts marking the late 2000s, Columbus State University continued to prosper. This included establishing several new graduate programs – including its first doctoral degree – and its inaugural appearance on U.S. News & World Report’s list as one of the top 50 comprehensive public universities in the South. During this time, CSU also strengthened its relationship with U.S. Army Fort Moore, expanded its online degree offerings, added NCAA and club sports, and established the Honors College.

Since 2000, Columbus State has concluded two successful comprehensive fundraising campaigns. The “Investment in People” Campaign, which exceeded its $67 million goal by nearly 50%, wrapped in 2005. In 2012, CSU’s “First Choice” Campaign concluded after exceeding its $100 million goal by 20% with the support of more than 8,000 alumni and community donors.

CSU experienced additional integration with the Columbus community in 2007 with its new RiverPark Campus near the banks of the Chattahoochee River in historic Uptown. Today, the urban campus includes much of the university’s fine, performing and communication arts programs and facilities; is home to the College of the Arts, the College of Education & Health Professions and many of its outreach centers; and offers students learning, living and dining options in addition to those on Main Campus.

In recent years, CSU has broadened its creativity, innovation and efficiency in its academic, operational and outreach efforts. This includes an intentional focus on servant leadership as both an institutional core value and an academic discipline. This innovative spirit has led to new workforce development-focused degree programs and increased standings in many national educational ranking programs.

During its 60-plus-year history, the university has been under the leadership of six presidents – including its current president, Dr. Stuart Rayfield, who began her tenure on June 1, 2023.

Stuart Eddings Rayfield
President
Columbus State University

Dr. Stuart Eddings Rayfield was named Columbus State University's sixth president by the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia on March 9, 2023. She began her official tenure on June 1, 2023.

An Alabama native, Dr. Rayfield earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Rhodes College in Memphis, Tennessee. She then earned a master's in higher education administration focused on student affairs from the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa before earning a doctorate in higher education administration focused on leadership, policy and organizations from Vanderbilt University in Nashville.

President Rayfield's original tenure at Columbus State began in 2006 as an assistant professor, later holding the Frank D. Brown Distinguished Chair in Servant Leadership. Along with teaching, she directed the Servant Leadership Program, co-led the SACSCOC reaffirmation of accreditation, and co-developed the Master of Science in Organizational Leadership program, Servant Leadership track in the D. Abbott Turner College of Business & Technology. In 2015, she was also named interim associate provost for undergraduate education.

A year later, she accepted the role as interim president of the former Bainbridge State College, where she co-led the college's consolidation with Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College. She then immediately stepped into the role of interim president of Gordon State College, leading the college's transition to new leadership.

In July 2018, President Rayfield was named the University System of Georgia's vice chancellor for leadership and institutional development – stepping away only briefly in late 2019 to serve as the interim president of the University of West Georgia. In 2022, she served as interim executive vice chancellor for academic affairs, overseeing the university system's entire academic enterprise. As vice chancellor for leadership and institutional development, President Rayfield led support for USG's 26 public colleges and universities as well as the University System Office in areas that include management, leadership transitions, and training and orientation.

Before her service to the University System of Georgia, she held positions at Auburn University, Vanderbilt University, Middle Tennessee State University (Murfreesboro), and the University of Alabama.

Dr. Rayfield is married to David Rayfield, a partner at the law firm Waldrep, Mullin & Callahan LLC in Columbus, and a graduate of Rhodes College and the University of Alabama. Together, they have two daughters: Vivian, who attends the Georgia Institute of Technology, and Celia, a student at Columbus High School.

Jake Harris

Commencement Speaker

*J*ake Harris, a native of Harris County, Georgia, is an accelerated banker associate at Synovus Bank in Columbus. For the last year, Mr Harris has participated in a training program in consumer banking and commercial credit. In the coming months, he will graduate from the training program and be a lead relationship banker with Synovus.

Mr. Harris received his associate of science with honors from Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College in Tifton, Georgia where he served as the Student Government Association president. He went on to obtain his bachelor of business administration in marketing, with summa cum laude honors, from the D. Abbott Turner College of Business and Technology at Columbus State University, graduating in 2021. While studying at CSU, Mr. Harris served as a Presidential Envoy with the CSU Foundation and Alumni Association. Before starting his career at Synovus, he served the university as a development officer, cultivating relationships with alumni and friends to secure financial support for university priorities. He currently serves as the Young Farmer and Rancher chair of the Harris County Farm Bureau and the vice president for the Board of Directors for Sound Choices Pregnancy Clinic.

As a recent graduate, Mr. Harris looks forward to giving Spring 2024 graduates a few words of advice he wished he had known when he was sitting in this same audience, wondering what the next few years would be like.

Mr. Harris has been married to his high school sweetheart, Chole, for almost two years, and they have a goldendoodle named Joey. They enjoy trying new restaurants, traveling and volunteering at their church.

The History of Academic Pageantry

The Academic Regalia

In its essential features, the academic regalia worn at American college exercises had its beginning in the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of Northern Europe grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded as a part of the clergy. As their regular costume, they wore the clerical garb that was borrowed largely from the monastic dress of their day.

The academic gown and hood were apparently first regularly adopted by Cambridge University in 1284 and by Oxford University a little later. The custom was transplanted to this country in colonial times by King's College in New York (now Columbia University).

In 1875, American universities and colleges decided to standardize their academic styles and developed the intercollegiate code of academic costume, which follows the Cambridge tradition. The distinctive caps, gowns and hoods worn at present-day college and university functions denote the institution that granted the degree, the field of learning in which the degree was earned, and the level of the degree – bachelor, master, or doctorate.

The gown is usually of black material (serge or worsted for bachelors, the same or silk for master's, and silk for doctors). Bachelor's gowns have pointed sleeves; master's gowns have long, pouch-like sleeves that reputedly were once used to carry books, sandwiches, etc. Doctor's gowns are faced with panels of velvet down the front and three bars of velvet across each sleeve.

The cap is a square mortar-board in most American universities, and a round soft, flat velvet hat in British, Canadian, and some European universities. It bears a tassel, which may be colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer. Only the doctor's caps may be of velvet.

The hood, worn around the neck so as to hang down the back, is the principal emblem of the nature and source of the degree held. The colors in the hood lining are the colors of the college conferring the degree. The color of the border indicates the scholarly field of the college conferring the degree and the scholarly field of the wearer. Hoods may be worn only after the degree has been granted. Certain standard colors represent the disciplines.

The color facing the hood, like the facing on the doctoral gown, indicates:

white . . . . . arts and letters	lilac . . . . . dentistry

The University Mace and Presidential Medallion

The word “mace” is derived from the Latin word mateola, meaning mallet or staff. In the Middle Ages, these staffs, with a ball of steel or brass at one end, were used as weapons against armored warriors. As the weapons of war became more sophisticated, the mace evolved from an instrument of battle to a symbol of authority and power. Universities in Europe adopted the mace as a symbol of authority and unity. This tradition has continued to the present day, and many institutions of higher learning use the mace in a ceremonial capacity.

Originally designed and constructed by Jamie Howard, at the time a Columbus State professor of art, the mace and medallion are two symbols of the office of the president. Commissioned by the Columbus State University Foundation, the university mace and the presidential medallion were first used in the inauguration of Dr. Frank D. Brown as the university’s third president. The mace is constructed of rosewood, Bastogne walnut and sterling silver.

The medallion, augmented in 2012 with a chain and bronze border reflective of the university seal, is worn by the president at commencement and other ceremonial occasions. The silver part of the medallion bears a representation of the tree of knowledge.

CSU Colors

The official colors of Columbus State University are red, white and blue.

CSU Mascot

The Columbus State University mascot is the cougar.

CSU Motto

The motto of Columbus State University is Primus Inter Pares, Latin for “First Among Equals”.

The Academic Procession

The academic procession is a descendant of European religious processions, which began to include teaching faculties in the Middle Ages, when universities were closely associated with the medieval church. The order used in today's procession evolved in this country as the importance of ceremony developed in American institutions of higher learning.

Leading the procession is the mace-bearer. In medieval times, the mace bearer literally used the mace to maintain order at official occasions. Today, the mace is symbolic of the authority of the president's office. The mace-bearers in today's ceremony are the college faculty marshals. They will escort the stage party consisting of the president, vice presidents, deans, commencement speakers and others. They will then lead the members of Columbus State University's faculty to their seats.

University Gonfalons

The Columbus State University gonfalons, which are the distinctive college banners hanging from crosspieces on poles, were created as part of the university's 50th anniversary celebration.

Gonfaloni was originally the name given to local neighborhood meetings in medieval Florence. Each 'neighborhood' had its own flag and coat of arms, and the word gonfalon eventually became associated with the flag.

Universities and colleges around the world have adopted gonfalons to increase the ceremonial nature of commencement exercises. The top portion of each college's gonfalon is the designated color for each unit; white is the background color for each of the college's symbols, as well as one of the university's colors.
