

Faculty Senate Children in the Classroom

Summary

Faculty Senate Policy on having children of students in the classroom during session.

Purpose

To provide guidelines for faculty on how to address students who ask to bring children into the classroom for a variety of reasons.

Policy

Unenrolled individuals (to include minors) may not attend CSU classes without prior permission of the instructor. CSU students may bring their children to class only when there are extenuating circumstances and with the prior approval of the instructor. Instructors may further restrict this policy through a statement on the course syllabus. Children may not be brought to campus and left unsupervised.
