

Researching University Records in the CSU Archives

The Columbus State University Archives preserves the history of the university as mandated by the Board Of Regents. We document evidence of university functions and operations and help ensure accountability and transparency. To conduct research on university records, please consult the CSU Collection Finding Aid. This will provide you with a overview of our CSU related material as well as a detailed box and folder inventory. However, please be mindful that our collection of university records is currently being reprocessed to comply with the Board of Regents Retention Schedule. Some items may require additional time for retrieval.

For questions or specific access requests please consult the archival staff.
