

The Columbus State University Writers Conference

The Columbus State University Writers Conference is a bi-annual event that was postponed in fall, 2020, and it's now being planned for late October of fall, 2022. This will be a nature writing conference, in collaboration with the Oxbow Environmental Learning Center. Tentative activities for the conference include nature walks and bird-watching, guest speakers, and writing workshops for adults and kids. Our website for the conference will be updated soon.

