
The Center for Health Disparities and Community Based Research

The Center for Health Disparities and Community-Based Research is dedicated to:

- Improving health in vulnerable communities and meeting community health needs through collaborative work with local non-profit organizations.
- The Center also provides service-learning and research opportunities for students in the College of Education and Health Professions in order to provide real-world experiences to prepare graduates for the workforce and graduate education.

Read about our mission, vision, and goals, explore our past and future projects, and see what services we offer.

You may also learn about who we are and how to get in touch.