335092	Spring 2017	CRJU 3165	The Most Dangerous Case: A Look into Criminal Investigative Techniques	This project will be a short story that details the specific steps, procedures, and techniques used in investigating and solving different cases. I will write the story from the perspective of an officer who is attempting to solve an ongoing case. The narrative will highlight the proper techniques and common errors investigators make. The learning objectives from the course will be incorporated into the story. While the story will be informative, it will still read as if it is a narrative and not a textbook.
