379096	Spring 2018	HIST 3555	Second-Wave Feminism: A Study of Intersectionality	For this project, I will be researching intersectionality in second-wave feminism. The project will consist of a 7-8 page research paper, primarily containing primary source analysis of the subject. I will analyze the writings of African American women and other minority women who participated in the second wave of feminism to learn what they thought of the events and the level of inclusion or exclusion they felt from the movement as a whole.
