

Term	Course	Contract Title	Description
Spring 2020	HESC 5795U	Pharmacology of Caffeine	This project will be focused on the common stimulant, caffeine. Research on the chosen topic will be conducted using scholarly sources. Aspects of research will include chemical structure, effects on the human body, interactions with other drug classes, and addiction and withdrawal at minimum. Information gathered will then be used to create an educational info-graph on caffeine use.