Supporting the College of Letters and Sciences

Private giving to Columbus State University's College of Letters and Sciences is more than just a gift. It's an investment in the college and the community.

Donations to the Friends of Letters and Sciences Fund enable the College of Letters and Sciences to provide opportunities for faculty and students that are not possible with state funding. This fund is used for scholarships for outstanding students, study abroad programs, faculty and staff development, development initiatives, alumni outreach, and general support of the College of Letters and Sciences.
