

CSU Library Resources and Services

The Columbus State University Library give you access to thousands of journals, databases, videos, and books, whether you're starting a research paper or digging into a specific topic. Search the catalog, browse subject guides built around CSU's academic programs, or explore collections through the CSU ePress. If you need help finding something, the library staff at Schwob Memorial and our satellite locations are a good place to start.

Use the GALILEO search to find databases, journals, videos, journal articles, and other resources available to CSU students, faculty, and staff. You can also visit the GALILEO website to view all available databases.
