To ensure that the living on campus experience is safe and enjoyable for all students, residents are responsible for ensuring that they read, understand, and follow the expectations and policies within the current Residence Life Community Guide and the Columbus State University Student Handbook. All residents, visitors / guests of residents, and staff are expected to abide by these guidelines / handbooks and were created to ensure a standard of behavior that promotes positive relationships with others in our closely connected communities.

You can access the current Residence Life Community Guide by clicking within the grid below. Additionally, below quick reference for some suggested and prohibited items:

Residence Life Community Guide

The Residence Life Community Guide was developed to ensure that the student's experience while living on campus is one that they enjoy and cultivates an environment for students to be successful in and out of the classroom. This document is one that is continuously evolving to ensure we are meeting the needs of our residents. Please click below for the latest version:

Suggested Items

While CSU housing is fully furnished, there are certain things that will help to make your apartment / bedroom a home away from home. We recommend that you communicate with your roommate to decide who will bring shared items such as televisions, mini-refrigerators, shower curtains, etc.

For your convenience, we have partnered with Campus Comforts to provide an easy, affordable way to purchase Twin XL bedding, storage solutions, and everything else you may need for your new home away from home. Please visit Columbus State University - Campus Comforts to get move-in day ready and create your dream room!

The following is a list of items that on-campus residents often find helpful:
