CSU STRATEGIC PLANNING TIMELINE

What is a strategic plan: A strategic plan plays out the fundamental decisions and actions that will shape and guide what an organization wants to be, what it will do and why it wants to do it. – As defined by the Strategic Planning Steering Committee in 2012

SEPTEMBER 2016

- Strategic Planning Steering Committee Established
- Meet with ELT to discuss tweaking Vision, Mission, Values and for them to provide their thoughts on the upcoming strategic planning process
- Kick-off meeting with Strategic Planning Steering Committee – Wednesday, September 14, 2016 Noon to 1:30pm President’s Club Lumpkin Center
- Begin Evaluation of Existing Data
  - The strategic planning steering committee will analyze existing data and any other pertinent efforts that need to be incorporated into the plan as a precursor to future planning activities.
  - Understanding existing trends or patterns in data are essential to inform future instruments for surveys or focus groups.
  - Examples of existing data to be analyzed:
    - SWOT data gathered in 2012
    - Concluding strategic plan
    - Complete College Georgia (CCG)
    - Master Plan
    - SACS data
    - QEP
    - Enrollment Data
    - eCore
    - CSU Brand info
    - Graduate student info
    - Adult learner info
    - Senior survey results
    - National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE)
    - Collegiate Assessment of Academic Proficiency (CAAP)
    - Student outcomes
    - Information gathered during the faculty/staff/department head retreat
    - Peer and aspirational institution data for comparison October 2016

- Strategic Planning Steering Committee Meeting - Thursday, October 6, 2016 1:30pm – 3:00pm
  Cunningham Center
  o Discuss Data reviewed
  o Mini-SWOT to prepared materials that will need to use in upcoming Focus Groups
- Begin conducting stakeholder focus groups
  o Face-to-Face Focus Group(s) with each stakeholder group (Faculty, Staff, Students, Community, and Others)
  o Description: This technique provides a high level of information about attitudes and opinions from key stakeholders. Focus groups allow for an in-depth conversation about attitudes and knowledge with a select group. Focus groups are best utilized as a complimentary methodology to explore particular patterns or trends of interest. Participants in the focus groups would be known to those conducting the session. The information gathered at this session(s) will not be attributable back to specific participants.
  o Multiple focus groups (dates/times/locations TBD):
    o For reference, in 2012 we conducted a total 20 focus groups with faculty, staff and students.
      ▪ Staff: Staff Council and 4 open sessions (2 on main campus, 2 downtown)
      ▪ Faculty: Dean’s Council, Business School, Teacher Education, Graduate Directors, HPEX, Basic Studies, Library, College of the Arts, College of Science & Letters, 3 open sessions
      ▪ Students: 2 open focus groups (1 on main campus, 1 downtown), 1 with graduate students
    o Recommend we add focus groups with community, trustees and alumni

November 2016

  Cunningham Center
  o Discuss progress of focus groups
  o Discuss Strategic Focuses & Priorities of CSU
- Continue conducting focus groups

December 2016

- Strategic Planning Steering Committee Meeting, Thursday, December 8, 2016 1:30pm – 3:00pm
  Cunningham Center
  o Open online requests for input (open for those who were unable to participate in the face-to-face focus groups)
    o Online Survey for each stakeholder group and one that is open to the public
    o Link to survey to be distributed via appropriate contact person, open 2 – 4 weeks to gather appropriate response, o The survey would be open to specific stakeholder groups (students, staff, faculty, alumni) with one survey open to the general public (if desired). The data gathered would be anonymous with no way to attribute response back to specific respondents. Data would be combined with the data gathered during focus groups.
