CSU STRENGTHS (Strengths are items that are positive and internal to CSU)

Comments/notes regarding the above listed strengths:

- We should be pursuing national accreditation for all programs, where available
- Respondents do not understand the phrase “town-gown”
- In regards to ‘nice new updated facilities’ – need to add all facilities are clean and well maintained
- In regards to ‘safe campuses’ – need to reference BART program here
- In regards to ‘strong student support services’ – by both faculty and staff, need more emphasis on the amount and quality of student life activities available for all
- In regards to ‘International education grants and program opportunities’ – need to include international learning communities and the benefit of many international students on campuses here at CSU
- Think the word robust should be removed from the servant leadership and honors program strengths
Please list any STRENGTHS that you do not see in the above list but feel should added?

Other comments:

- Support for CSU’s growth
- Growth of graduate programs
- Alumni engagement is good for local alumni
- Opportunities for faculty and students to publish research together
- Increased interest in and support for faculty research
- Supportive of military students/military community

Please list any STRENGTHS that you believe should be removed from the above list and provide a brief explanation as to why the item should be removed from this list.

- Increase in online program offerings – Most comments related to ‘we offer enough, don’t/shouldn’t offer more. What is purpose/plan regarding online classes? For flexibility or for profit?
- Robust servant leadership program – program is not robust. Program is too small and doesn’t touch enough students to be considered a strength to the University as a whole. Still some lack of understanding around what servant leadership is/represents/means.
- Faculty to student ratio – Not for a teaching institution CSU 18:1, USG average 13:1.
- Distinctive campuses creates a unique and diverse quality of student life – Drain on resources, causes a division on the campus community.
Additional Comments of note pertaining to CSU STRENGTHS

- Increase in diversity within the student body is only a strength if groups are positively interacting and learning from one another
- Local students don’t think of CSU as their first choice
- Inflexible traditionalist faculty and policies create a hostile work environment in some areas
Other comments:

- Regarding the lack of brand visibility/awareness/value – should be lack of effectiveness
- Low student retention and graduation rates should also include flat enrollment retirement
Please list any WEAKNESSES that you do not see in the above list but feel should added?

Other comments:

- Inadequate support for employees with families (i.e. lack of on-site daycare, flex schedules)
- Slow to change
- Reliance on external funding
- Connection with Benning & military retirees

Please list any WEAKNESSES that you believe should be removed from the above list and provide a brief explanation as to why the item should be removed from this list.

What about CSU made it your first choice?

Only choice out of high school that seemed reasonable. Left returned for ease of reentry

Degree program

Computer Science program and it was the closest college to home.

location and previous experiences with CSU

location and well known

CSU Archives

Close proximity

The emphasis on the amount of professors that had real life experience in their respective fields and the wonderful opportunities available for study abroad through the Center for International Education are the reasons CSU was my first choice.

Within close proximity of home.

Close to home, great ESS department

I completed my undergraduate degree here

A graduate assistant position and knowing the professors from receiving my undergraduate degree here.

Local

Proximity to my house, and it's the best choice for an accredited university in this area.

I did my undergraduate here and loved it. I like the online classes and the program is far better than others.

All of the scholarship, internship, and student assistantship opportunities

I went here for undergrad and fell in love with the institution. I applied to be a graduate assistant and started grad school here.

stayed home for college/ cost

I have loved the campus ever since my first visit with my father a couple of years ago. He is a student here who is about to graduate this December. I love that CSU is involved in the community and that is has a part of the campus located downtown.

You have a low cost, you are close to my house so I can stay home, you have the UTEACH program, and I like the campus.

Location Price  Community involvement  Education program

It was the closest university to my residence after retiring from the Army
What college/university was your first choice? How did you end up at CSU?

I went to South Georgia Technical College Americus ga first. But if I would have known that Columbus state was to amazing I would have made it my first. Valdosta State; I decided to stay home for a year of undergrad, but loved CSU. Now I am pursuing my master's here.

Auburn, but I have just recently returned to college after years of hiatus. CSU was more affordable, closer to work, and offered the Georgia Film Academy softball

Valdosta State, Transfer

Auburn University. CSU was closer to home

Didn't have a first choice and I transferred

Auburn. I transferred from Auburn to be able to be in the UTeach program so I could get my Chemistry degree and teaching certification.

Ga Tech / MIT

A technical college in my town. I came to CSU because my boyfriend was here.

Georgia Southern Money, location of being near my family, getting accepted

Auburn University was my first choice. I live equidistant from both institutions, but affording out-of-state tuition at Auburn University was a challenge.

Albany State University. I stayed home because of my parents to attend CSU.

Georgia Tech, I stayed in Columbus to work for Aflac

As an English major, my first choice was UGA, as they have an outstanding English program. However, the international education program at CSU was a major draw. Specifically, I was interested in the Oxford Visiting Student Program. Thus, despite my acceptance to my first choice institution, I chose CSU in the hopes of participating in the year-long study abroad program at the University of Oxford, in England. Thankfully, I was awarded the Spencer Scholarship and allowed to attend the program my junior year, and this experience alone has made my choice to attend CSU worth it.

Louisiana Monroe university. Because of soccer.

I had originally applied to the University of West Georgia but did not get in due to their policy on homeschoolers. I'm very glad that I didn't, however. I feel CSU is a much better fit for me.

UGA was my first choice but I wasn't accepted, and all of the other places I was accepted to were too expensive. CSU was the most cost efficient option.

Auburn- Transferred to CSU after my freshman year

Auburn University; CSU was closer and cheaper in tuition.

Ga Tech / MIT
GCSU. Attended GSW because I could not afford GCSU, intended to transfer to Western Carolina. Was also too expensive. Had been to Columbus on a rafting trip and liked the city, so decided to go to CSU. Great decision.

Kennesaw State University; I received a scholarship for CSU

Berry College for their competitive pre-law program I came to CSU because of finances and stayed because I fell in love with the opportunities here

More affordable
