Imagine Your Impact

STRATEGIC PLAN

2018 2023

COLUMBUS STATE UNIVERSITY
LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Friends,

I am pleased to present the roadmap forward for Columbus State University’s emergence as one of the South’s most creative and impactful regional universities.

This strategic plan is the result of much collaboration and discussion. I appreciate all the thought that went into creating a document that reflects our values as an institution, and spells out not only what we are going to do, but how we are going to do it. A special thanks is due to Gina Sheeks and Tina Butcher for co-chairing the strategic planning committee, to Shana Young for facilitating this process, and to all the committee members and participants for their input.

Our vision is to be recognized for our transformational learning experiences, while producing graduates who are creative problem-solvers and high-impact leaders. That means they will have the skills necessary to compete in the classroom, as well as the savvy needed to effectively contribute in business, cultural, scientific or educational communities.

As we prepare to celebrate our 60th anniversary, I believe Columbus State University is on the verge of something extraordinary.

Because of our rich history of partnerships, you are an important stakeholder in our journey toward greatness. Imagine your impact as we work together to become more student-centered, to be more responsive to local workforce needs, to better serve the populations that need us the most, to better prepare this community for the future, to more creatively empower the next generation of leaders, and to elevate this university’s stature.

Imagine your impact!

— Chris
